

ONE EGG SHORT AND IS PROMPTLY MURDERED

CHICAGO CHEF VICTIM OF INSANE TEMPER OF WAITER YESTERDAY.

CHICAGO, March 1.—In a cell at a police station G. C. Harbaugh, a waiter, awaits formal arraignment for killing Charles Kelly a cook, by plunging a carving knife through his heart. Harbaugh had ordered three eggs for a customer, the cook blundered and prepared only two and the waiter, insanely angry, slew him after a short quarrel.

The sergeant who took Harbaugh into custody, gave a metaphysical view of the crime when he had disposed of his captive.

"Now, when you write this up," he said, "don't go and say 'the two men quarreled over an egg.' Nothing of the kind happened. The egg was just an incident. You might as well say that those seventy men were killed out at the crib by a parlor match. What killed them was dynamite. What killed Kelly was Harbaugh's 'grouch.' The egg just started Harbaugh's 'grouch' going. You needn't blame Harbaugh too much for having that 'grouch,' either. Most men have grouches. Another name for them is deranged nerves. They don't always bring on a murder, but they're responsible for a big percentage of the minor crimes. The average 'grouch' is as dangerous to human life as a ton of dynamite. It breaks up families by causing quarrels at the breakfast table. It makes partners fight and brings on bankruptcy. Its started as many men on the road to ruin as whiskey."

"This murder was committed late in the day. Harbaugh had been working since early morning with the grouch accumulating all the time. When that customer ordered the eggs he was just about ready to blow up. Finally the eggs came and there were only two of them. The customer kicks to Harbaugh, blaming him. There's the parlor match that lit the dynamite. The cook and the waiter quarreled. Harbaugh goes for the carving knife. It was the easiest thing within reach. One swing of the knife and its all over. Kelly's on the floor, dead. Harbaugh is standing over him with the knife in his hand, wondering how it all happened. Then in came the police and Harbaugh's on his way to the police station and maybe to the gallows."

FASHIONS FOR BABIES.

"Perhaps the young mother may think that when she comes to make clothes for her baby she won't have to worry her head very much as to what's the fashion of the day," says Grace Maragret Gould in the Woman's Home Companion for March.

"Perhaps she thinks that baby clothes are always the same. If she does, she is a very mistaken little lady, for clothes for the little folks show from time to time many of the innovations which makes the garments for grown-ups in the mode. This is especially so this spring. Even the long dresses for infants show the Princess and Empire lines, and sleeves have diminished greatly in size. The vogue for hand embroidery is also emphasized in baby clothes; not only is it used on the little dresses, but on the long cloaks and the dainty little flannel wrappers and saqueses.

"It goes without saying that if baby's mother is the sensible little woman that she is quite sure to be, baby will have no frills and furbelows on his clothes. Simplicity is the fashion to-day. And baby clothes reflect the trend of the modes. Generally speaking, the distinction between baby's every-day clothes and his dresses for best wear is merely in the quality of the fabric. When baby is expected to look his nest his dress is of the sheerest of nainsook, lawn or longcloth and sometimes washable cotton chif-fon."

A PROSPECTIVE SHELTER.

A well-known Senator was asked by some politicians were always making such a howl about the preservation of our forests. "Oh," he replied, "they probably never know just when they may have to take to the woods," Success Magazine.

HARD WORDS.

Oscar Hammerstein was discussing the extravagances of the Metropolitan Operahouse

"They have tried to corner opera," he said. "They have on their pay rolls more stars than they can use. That is why they hand out weekly thousands of dollars to singers who haven't sung.

"I know that they tried to corner opera in order to cripple me, but I will say nothing against them," resumed the famous manager. "They have heard hard words enough. In the production of opera hard words are more the rule than soft ones; and you feel like the frosted Canadian actor.

"A Canadian actor once had a cold reception here in New York, but he told me, one night, that at last he felt rather complimented. A scene shifter from a rival house had spoken of him in a way that seemed, by comparison with the newspaper criticisms, splendid.

"And in asking for two free seats this is what the scene shifter had said:

"It ain't for meself I want em: Oh gee! no. I seen 'im wunst, ye know. They're for the old woman. Like all the women, she just wants ter say she's seen 'im. Don't worry none about the kind o' seats they are. Any

LOST SEASONS.*

Cleveland Moffett, journalist and playwright, said the other day of a French associate.

"He has a regular annual failure, hasn't he? His failures come round as regularly as the cold weather or old Blank's farewells.

"Old Blank, the tragedian, you know, heard sad news from his doctor last week.

"You'll have to give up the stage in seven or eight years, sir," the doctor said. "Your organic trouble is slowly gaining ground. I've known it for a long, long time."

"Then why didn't you tell me?" said Blank angrily. You have cheated me out of several farewell seasons." Ex.
